JOINT STATEMENT BY TAFT AND ROOSEVELT

Unconditional Surrender by Enemy the Only Way to End the War---Democratic Obstruction and Republican Aid to Prosecution of the War Show Necessity for Electing a Republican Congress.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 31.—For the first time in American history, two former Republicans—Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft—today issued a joint statement advocating the election of a Republican congress and the winning of the war through unconditional surrender on the part of Germany. The signed statement of the only two living ex-presidents, given out here today, follows:

"We approach this subject as Americans, and only as Americans. When this war broke out we would have welcomed action by the president which would have eliminated all questions of party politics. It would have enabled us all to stand behind him to the end, without regard to anything except national considerations. Instead of this, partisan lines have been strictly drawn from the first, and now the president announces that only Democrats can be entrusted with future power, and only those Democrats who do his will. Because of this reflection on other patriotic Americans, we appeal for fair play.

"The next congress will serve from March 4, 1919, to March 4, 1921.

"In that period,

"First, the war must be fought to unconditional surrender unless this is achieved before.

"Second, the terms of world peace must be settled.

"Third, the Democratic administration, after expending billions of treasure and exercising more absolute power than any administration in our history, must give an account of its stewardship.

"Fourth, the change from war conditions to peace must be brought about with the least disturbance, and the work of reconstruction must be broadly begun.

"A Republican congress will be much better qualified than one controlled by Democrats to aid the country in adopting the measures needed for these four great tasks.

"First, even as a minority party, the Republicans made the winning of the war possible by passing the original draft bill. Without this, we could not have trained and landed the two millions of men now in France. As a minority party, the Republicans forced upon a reluctant president and secretary of war, after an injurious delay of four months, the amended draft act, without which we could not put two more millions at the front next July. The speaker, the leader and the chairman of the military committee of the Democratic house opposed the original draft with all the vigor possible. It was saved, and so our country's cause was saved, by the Republican minority.

"Second, the new senate must approve, by two-thirds vote, the terms of peace. Those terms should be settled not by one man only. It is one man control we are fighting in this war to suppress. If the peace treaty is to be useful in the future, it must be approved by the great body of the American people. The president has indicated a willingness to make a peace by negotiation. He has not demanded, as he might have done in three lines, that which the American people demand, an unconditional surrender. His exchange of notes with Germany has caused a deep concern among our people lest he may by his parleying with her, concede her a peace around a council table instead of a sentence from a court. The fourteen points which the president and Germany assume that they have already agreed upon, are so general and vague that such a peace would be no treaty at all, but only a protocol to an interminable discussion. The president is without final power to bind the United States to those fourteen points, although his language does not suggest it. Still less has he power to bind our noble Allies. We do not know that these points include all that our Allies may justly demand, or do not include something that they may justly withhold. For what they have done for us, we owe our Allies the highest good faith. It is of capital importance, therefore, that we should now elect a senate which shall be independent enough to interpret and enforce the will of the American people in the matter of this world peace, and not merely submit to the uncontrolled will of Mr. Wilson.

"Nor can the attitude of the house of representatives be ignored in this peace. Every affirmative obligation binding the United States in that treaty must be performed by the house as part of the congress. The present Democratic majority in the house has been subservient to the will of the president in every respect except when critical issues in the conduct of the war have been involved. The president has not hesitated publicly to discipline those of his party who have disagreed with him, and the lesson has had its effect. A new Democratic congress, with its old leaders, thus chastened, will offer no opposition to his will. They will not be consulted in the future more than in the past. In a Democratic congress, the American people will not have the service of an independent, courageous, co-ordinate branch of the government to moderate this uncontrolled will. It is not safe to entrust to one man such unlimited power. It is not in accord with the traditions of the republic.

"Third, the Republicans voted without objection billions to be expended by this administration. Six hundred and forty millions for aviation were given to the executive to build aeroplanes, without a single limitation as to the manner or method of its expenditure. A senate committee has deplored the waste and failure in the use of that money. The debts which have been created by this war, the people will be paying to the third and fourth generation. They have a right to know how these enormous sums have been expended. Only a Republican congress will have the courage to exact a detailed and accurate story of that stewardship.

"Fourth, the work of reconstruction must not be done by one man, or finally formulated according to his academic theories and ideals. The president was not elected when such issues were before the people. His mandate of power was not given in the light of the momentous questions which will soon force themselves for solution. He was elected as a peace president, and because he had kept us out of war. The American people should therefore place in the branch of the government charged constitutionally with adopting policies of reconstruction, a congress which will not register the will of one man, but fresh from the people, will enact the will of the people.

"We earnestly deprecate extending the unified uncontrolled leadership of a commander-in-chief to the making of a permanent treaty of peace or to the framing of those measures of reconstruction which must seriously affect the happiness and prosperity of the American people for a century. We urge all Americans, who are Americans first, to vote for a Republican congress.

ITALIAN FRONT IN BLAZE OF BATTLE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 31.—(2:10 p. m.)—All of the Allied armies on the Italian front are now in action and the whole battle line is ablaze, said a dispatch fom Rome this afternoon. The line stretches from Stelvio, on the Swiss frontier, to the Adriatic.

London, Oct. 31.—(12:30 p. m.)—Forty thousand Austro-Hungarian prisoners have been captured on the Italian front, said a Central News dispatch from Rome today.

The retreating enemy is burning villages behind his lines.

Rome, Oct. 31.—"The heads of our advancing columns have reached Serraville, Ursago, Gajabina and Oderzo," the Italian war office announced today.

"Our cavalry has entered Sacile.

"The enemy has been obliged to evacuate Asiago before the advance of the Sixth army.

"During the rush it has been impossible to keep count of the thousands of prisoners captured."

The Austro-Hungarians are retiring from Italian soil because they are decisively beaten is the view of Italy.

HALLOWE'EN SHOULD BE QUIETLY KEPT

With Thousands Ill of Pneumonia and Influenza and With Many Homes Saddened by Death, the Night Should Pass Quietly.

Hallowe'en will be observed in Kingston this evening, and with thousands ill with influenza and pneumonia, and with many homes saddened by death, the usual pranks that are played should be omitted this year by the boys and girls of the city. The police will see to it that any damage to property will result in arrests being made, but with conditions existing in Kingston at the present time it is not expected that any acts of rowdyism will be committed.

IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

RALPH SPARLING.

Company F, 51st Pioneer Infantry, American Expeditionary Forces, France. Son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sparling of Binnewater, formerly of Glenford.

Richard D. Miller of Hurley left for Fort Totten, N. Y., today to enter into general military service in the Coast Artillery, being an enlisted man from Division No. 2.

Augustus G. Woolsey who has been stationed at Camp Syracuse, has been transferred to Port Wilities, Camp Stuart, Virginia, and would like to hear from his many friends.

Mrs. Francis T. Donovan, formerly Miss Gaynell Carnright of this city, has received word of the safe arrival of her husband, Cadet Officer Francis T. Donovan overseas on the U. S. S. Westbrook.

Walter L. Mooney, a member of the Heavy Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Greble, Rhode Island, has been home for a few days, called by reason of the death of his mother at 17 Lucas avenue.

Jack Newkirk of the U. S. Navy, who has been at the Naval Base Hospital in Brooklyn, for treatment after having been accidentally gassed in France, is home on a fourteen days' leave of absence.

Miss Ruth Rodie is not, as was stated in last night's Freeman, going to the base hospital at Rahway, N. J., for a course of training. She reports for duty and will be held there in reserve for active service.

E. LeRoy Gill, son of Surrogate Walter N. Gill, has entered into the general military service, being a member of the navy unit, and is at the Troy Polytechnic Institute, taking a three months' government course of studies.

A troop train arrived in town yesterday afternoon, about 4 p. m. The boys got off and had refreshments and took a walk to the upper end of the city to stretch their legs. They were from Fort Riley, Kansas, and were typical examples of outdoor, western life.

C. S. Clark, son of A. H. Clark, 290 Fair street, is in Washington, D. C., in charge of the Red Cross membership work. Mr. Clark for several years has had charge of the bureau of the Western Newspaper Union at Cleveland, Ohio, and was manager of the publicity for the Red Cross last year.

Mrs. Carrie Sands of White Plains, N. Y., the manager of the United Cigar store in this city, has received word that her brother, J. Holpp was killed in action in France. She has returned to White Plains where she expects to stay till her mother recovers from the shock. During her absence her place will be taken by Joseph Warny. He will be assisted by a young lady from Newburgh.

James Hill Betts went to New Haven last week and took the college entrance examination at Yale College for admission as freshman. He passed the examination and has been admitted to the college. He has been voluntarily inducted into the United States Army and has been assigned by the military authorities to the Field Artillery at that college and is in Battery D. This is said to be the only fully equipped Field Artillery connected with any of the colleges in the United States. Young Betts remains there at the Field Artillery work and enjoys it greatly.

BRITISH DRIVE AGAINST GHENT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

With the British Army on the Western Battle Front, Oct. 31.—(11 a. m.)—British and French troops began a new assault on the Flanders front this morning and the drive is going well.

Ghent is expected to fall shortly as a result.

No details were available when this was cabled but the best information was that the Germans were not prepared to make a determined stand at Ghent, but would likely withdraw their line to Antwerp and the line east and south.

$230,000 KINGSTON'S SHARE IN WAR CHEST

That Sum to be Raised in This City and the Remaining $120,000 in the County Towns---Workers Being Recruited and Organized.

The War Chest campaign committee announced this morning that Kingston's quota for the war chest campaign, November 11 to 18, will be $230,000. Ulster county outside of Kingston will raise $120,000, making the total of $350,000 which will be necessary to provide for national and local war welfare agencies for one year.

Four hundred workers are being recruited by the Kingston City canvass committee through its industrial, business and house to house sections to carry out a canvass adequate to the big task of making further campaigns, except membership campaigns and investment campaigns, such as Liberty Loan and W. S. S., unnecessary for one year.

The meeting of the Kingston city canvass committee at campaign headquarters, yesterday evening, was remarkable for the enthusiasm and systematic organization exhibited in this early stage of the war chest campaign. Twenty-five chairmen of the committee and captains of teams attended. The keynote of the meeting was that of intense enthusiasm for the raising at once, and in a most complete and thorough going way, the funds that are needed to back up the boys "over there" in the blows that are to bring this war to a conclusion so decisive and complete that no nation shall again dare to challenge the freedom of America and the rights of mankind.

The meeting reflected the constantly increasing spirit of determination which has come to Kingston, to Ulster county and to every city, town, village and farm house in the United States, as more and more of our men have gone into training camps, across the seas and into the front line of battle. It reflected the spirit of invincible determination to do everything possible for the boys "over there" which has been sealed and recorded in terms of the American casualty list and Ulster county's honor roll on the tablet at the armory.

It breathed the spirit of readiness for every sacrifice in order that the American Red Cross, and the seven allies of the united war work campaign to which the Ulster county war chest will contribute $105,000, may have the generous support, which they must obtain, not only for their work while fighting continues but for work fully as essential in many ways even more extensive, during the year or more which will elapse whether peace comes soon or late, between the firing of the last shot and the complete demobilization and return to civilian life of the millions of men in the American service.

The gathering of the 400 workers who are to be the agents for the expression of Kingston's spirit in the form of War Chest pledges, will rest with the industrial, business and ward captains appointed last night. They will serve under the direction of Mayor Caufield, chairman of the Kingston city canvass committee: Wm. H. Van Slyke, chairman of the industrial committee:

Frank P. Messinger and George Whittaker, chairman and vice-chairman of the house to house committee. Chairman Messinger of the house to house committee, has selected Vice-Chairman Whittaker as a man skilled in campaign work, to share the responsibility for the most complete house to house canvass ever made in Kingston.

The captains appointed are:

Business Committee—Chairman, Samuel M. Watts; captain, V. Gorman, W. Waterbury and S. E. Eighmey.

Industrial Committee—Chairman, Wm. H. Van Slyke; captains, F. A. Powley, J. B. Kearney, Wm. C. DeWitt, Wm. C. Kingman and W. J. Turck.

House Committee — Chairman, Frank P. Messinger; vice-chairman, George Whitlaker; captains:

First Ward .....Chris. Loughran
Second Ward...Yet to be appointed
Third Ward .....A. D. Pardee
Fourth Ward...F. J. Spangenberger
Fifth Ward .....A. R. Powley
Sixth Ward .....Charles Pardian
Seventh Ward.....Hugh McTague
Eighth Ward .....F. R. Powley
Ninth Ward.....Dwight McEntee
Tenth Ward .....E. B. Schepmoes
Eleventh Ward.....Wm. Dugan
Twelfth Ward .....Arthur Wicks
Thirteenth Ward .....J. T. Egan

Kingston Chamber of Commerce has requested that all business letters sent to addresses in Kingston and Ulster county, from today until November 18, be signed, "Yours for Ulster County War Chest."

The War Chest publicity committee has asked that all advertisements until November 18 include some reference to the Ulster County War Chest campaign.

POST HAD BULLET THROUGH LEFT HAND

PRIVATE IRA C. POST.

L. P. Collins of No. 35 Henry street, has received a letter from his stepson, Private Ira C. Post, Company C, 206th Infantry, 77th (Camp Upton) Division, in which Private Post states that he was wounded on October 8, a bullet passing through his left hand, but that he is getting along nicely and "expects to be out and at them again," in a short time. Mr. Post was a popular employe of the Rose-Gorman-Rose store before entering the service.

WAR AT A GLANCE

The Allied advance on the Italian battle front, with Ohio troops taking part, has been extended to a width of more than seventy-five miles and disaster has overtaken the swiftly retreating Austro-Hungarians all the way from the Trentine to the Adriatic Sea.

A salient fifteen miles deep has been thrust into the Austro-Hungarian center and it was unofficially estimated today that upwards of 40,000 prisoners had been captured.

The Allies have seized the Austro-Hungarian key positions to Asiago, Vittorio and Oderzo.

British advanced troops had reached the Livenza river last night and probably have crossed it by this time.

Allied forces are pressing past Sacile, which is only about 35 miles from the Austro-Hungarian frontier.

Coming at a time when the Austro-Hungarians are being thrown out of the Balkans and coincident with deep political unrest in the dual monarchy, the victory will have important moral effect.

The Italian battle front held the center of interest today in the absence of any big scale operations in France.

The lull continues on the British front while there was a brief flare-up of fighting north of Chateau Porcien, where the French repulsed a heavy German counter attack.

Nearly all of the Balkans has now been liberated from Austria and Germany. Serbian troops are advancing rapidly through Montenegro and are approaching the frontier of Herzegovina (an Austro-Hungarian province). More than half of Montenegro has been cleared and practically all of Albania and Serbia.

Wilson's Reply to Austria.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Wilson today completed the text of his reply to the Austrian note of October 27 and sent it at once to Secretary of State Lansing for transmission to Vienna. It is understood that the reply is short and explains that the request for an immediate armistice and for peace negotiations has been communicated to the Entente Allies. The official text will be sent to Vienna through W. A. F. Ekengren, the Swedish minister, who represents Austrian interests in the United States.

German Troops in Revolt.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 31.—German troops in western Russia are in revolt. A Central News dispatch from Stockholm today said that 40,000 German soldiers at Ekaterinoslav on the Dnieper river in Ukrainia) shot their officers and advanced on Kharkov carrying the red flag. The revolutionary movement among the German troops in western Russia (Ukrainia) is growing.

TURKEY IS NOW OUT OF THE WAR

Armistice Concluded on Terms Given by the Allied War Council---Two British Armies Released for Service Against Germany--Dardanelles Open for Traffic.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Oct. 31 (12:38 p. m.)—An armistice has been concluded with Turkey and Turkey is now out of the war, it was learned by the International News Service from an authoritative source this afternoon.

The Allies' terms to Turkey, it is believed certain, embrace unconditional surrender and demobilization.

Turkey's surrender opens up the Dardanelles for traffic between the Black Sea and the Mediterranean.

Two great British armies, which have been operating in Palestine and Mesopotamia, are now released for service elsewhere and it is probable that they will be employed in the Balkans for the invasion of Austria.

Turkey's doom was sealed when Bulgaria dropped out of the war, severing direct rail communication between the Central Empires and Constantinople and opening the way for an attack against Constantinople from the north.

An August 4, 1914, a secret treaty of alliance was concluded between Germany and Turkey but long before that German influence at Constantinople had been growing steadily stronger.

Field Marshal von der Goltz was sent into Turkey to reorganse the Turkish army and he saw to it that German influence should permeate deeply into the ranks.

Turkey followed Germany into the war and gave refuge to the German cruisers Breslau and Goeben which were trapped in the Mediterranean and fled to the Dardanelles. They were turned over to the Turkish government after a pretended sale and Turkish names were given to them.

One of the chief agents of Germany in Turkey was Enver Pasha, minister of war at Constantinople when the war began. He was one of the influential Young Turks and is supposed to have received large sums of money for bringing Turkey into the war.

Germany insisted that the Turks make their greatest effort against Egypt in order to cut the Suez canal and two expeditions were organized but both were absolute failures. German troops were promiscuous in the Turkish armies during both campaigns.

During the course of the conflict the Arab tribesmen revolted and have since been aiding the Allies. Their freedom will be recognized.

The collapse of Turkey puts an end forever to Germany's vast dream of Mittel Europa and a Hamburg to Bagdad commercial route.

TURKEY'S PEACE NOTE REFERRED TO COUNCIL

Note a Duplication of Notes of Germany And Austria---President Refers Whole Matter to Supreme War Council of the Allies at Versailles.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 31.—President Wilson has referred the appeal from the Turkish government, asking him to use his influence with the Entente Allies to secure an immediate armistice and peace negotiations, to the various powers now at war with Turkey. He so anabnuced in a reply to the Turkish note of October 14 which was made public from the state department shortly after eleven o'clock today.

The original Turkish note was delivered to the state department through the Spanish ambassador, Juan Riano, on October 14. It was signed by the charge d'affaires of Turkey at Madrid and delivered by him to the Spanish foreign office on October 12. In general it was a duplication of the notes of Germany and Austria on the same subject. It accepted as a basis for negotiation on the program laid down by the president in his messages of January 8 and in his subsequent declarations, especially the speech of September 27.

The text of the reply as sent forward to Constantinople was as follows:

"From the Secretary of State to the Ambassador of Spain:

"Department of State, Washington, October 31, 1918.

"Excellency:

"I did not fail to lay before the president the note which you addressed to him on the 14th instant, and handed to me on that date.

"Acting under the instructions of your government, you enclosed with that note the text of a communication received by the minister for foreign affairs of Spain, from the charge d'affaires of Turkey at Madrid on October 12, in which the good offices of the government of Spain were sought to bring to the attention of the president the request of the imperial Ottoman government that he take upon himself the task of the restablishment of peace, and that he notify all belligerent states of the request, and invite them to delegate plenipotentiaries to initiate negotiations, the imperial Ottoman government accepting as a basis for the negotiation the program laid down by the president in his message to congress of January 8, 1918, and in his subsequent declarations, especially his speech of September 27. It is further requested by the imperial Ottoman government that steps be taken for the immediate conclusion of a general armistice on land, on sea and in the air.

"By direction of the president I have the honor to inform your excellency that the government of the United States will bring the communication of Turkish charge d'affaires to the knowledge of the governments at war with Turkey.

"Accept excellency, the renewed assurance of my highest consideration.

(Signed)

The Stroller Learns You can't Believe All the "Guff" That is Coming Out of Germany at Present Time.

"Take it from me I believe a lot of this news coming out of Germany about food riotsandasking the kaiser to back down is all pure guff," remarked the busy barber as he busily stropped a razor. He continued, "It is easy to send out a dispatch from Germany that Ludendorff has resigned, but that don't say it is actually so, and every one knows that Germany is such a darn liar that she can't lie straight in bed."

"I'll tell the world fair," continued the barber as he lathered another customer, "that I for one don't believe half the stuff I read in the papers about internal difficulties in Germany, for take it from me I would not be surprised but it is all German propaganda. The only thing I'll believe is the announcement by Marshal Foch that the German armies have surrendered and laid down their arms. That is the only fourteen terms of peace that looks good to me."

"And believe me," continued the busy barber, "when they do lay down their arms then it is up to us and the Allies to dismember the German empire and divide it up into a lot of little states under their own rulers. By doing that there will be no more Germany, and then there will be a real peace in the world. Germany by her acts has forfeited all rights to continue as a nation."

"How about Austria asking for peace?" queried a customer as he spit some lather out of his mouth.

"Give her peace, but make her pay her share of the expense she has put the Allies to by forcing them into war against her," said the barber.

Now is the time to make up your mind how much you are going to contribute a week toward the Ulster County War Chest.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scare and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics of the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Friday.

Breakfast—Sliced bananas. Pearl barley—top milk. *Corn muffins. Coffee.

Lunch or Supper—Mock duck with apple sauce. Parsley potatoes. Victory bread.

Dinner—Fried smelts. Scalloped potatoes. Buttered cauliflower. *Victory bread. *Tapioca custard with chocolate sauce.

*May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

Mock Duck.

½ cup chopped celery, 1 cup bread crumbs, ¾ cup chopped black walnuts or other nuts, 1 cup boiled rice, 2 hard cooked eggs, 1 raw egg, ½ tablespoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon fat.

Cook the bread crumbs with 1 cup of water for five minutes, add the celery, and the hard cooked eggs, chopped; remove from the fire, add the fat, the nuts, the rice and the seasonings. Mix well with the raw egg, slightly beaten. Form into the shape of a duck, brush over with melted fat and bake for 1 hour. Serve with apple sauce.

Fried Smelts.

Clean, trim the fins, and remove the gills; wipe very dry, roll in rice or corn flour, brush over with beaten egg, roll in crumbs or flour, and fry in a little fat until crisp; drain and place on a hot platter. Garnish with parsley.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus, which cannot be found in cook books, may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

PALENTOWN.

Palentown, Oct. 31.—Mrs William Dymond was called to the sick bed of her son, William, who has employment at Greene county. We are all hoping to hear he is gaining.

A number of hunters from the city are expected to spend a week at the Level Laid farm through deer season.

Miss Grace Traver, who has employment in Kingston, is at her former home for a few weeks' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Carson and grandson, Oriel Green, and chauffeur from Massachusetts, were guests at Homer Traver's the past Sunday. From this place they went to Krumville to call on Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Davis and also Mrs Carson's brother, Elisha Trowbridge.

Everett Brannon has bought a work horse. He moved a short time ago from Poughkeepsie to this place, where he and his family will make their home.

Miss Beatrice Gray has been visiting her friend at Kerhonkson for a few days.

John Traver, Sr., is spending a few days with his daughter at Mombaccus.

The potato and corn crops are turning out good in this section.

The young people of this place and Samsonville gathered at the home of Mrs. Jesse Shurter last Saturday night and a good time was had by all. Music and games were their pastime.

Mrs. H. J. Traver received word a few days ago of the death of her cousin, Miss Rhoda Terwilliger, from Kingston.

In the women voters in this district let us vote for which is the best for our boys and our nation. Don't vote to please some one else. If you do, you are not worthy of a vote.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, Oct. 31.—George Davis, whose illness was reported in last week's issue, passed away last Wednesday. The funeral services were held from the late home on Saturday last at 2 o'clock. The Rev. F. A. Coon officiated and delivered a fine sermon to the living and spoke in very high terms of the deceased as a husband, father, citizen and neighbor. Mr. Davis always was jovial; he always had a kind word for all his friends, as he met them day after day. He was not very robust and was a very hard working man, toiling late and early and they had their new home on Milton avenue of which they all took great interest in. He had taken a severe cold and pneumonic developed and he had not strength enough to stand it and death claimed him. He will be greatly missed in his home by his family where nothing was too good for any member. He had a large circle of friends who will miss the familiar face of this kind and genial man. We know he was held in high esteem by all who knew him and left to mourn his loss is a wife, two daughters, one son-in-law, and two sons, besides his mother and several sisters. All are bowed down with sorrow, yet in all grief we must bow in humble submissiveness to God's way and say, "Thy will be done." Heartfelt sympathy is extended to the family. There were many beautiful floral pieces from relatives and friends. The interment was in Highland cemetery with Undertaker H. Sutton in charge.

The Daughters of America, Order of Eastern Star, also Auxiliary Club will as yet hold no meetings until the board of health deem it proper, although the D. of A., if possible, will hold a business session on November 6. This being a benefit organization, the officers think it advisable to hold said meeting, unless something unforeseen should transpire in the meantime, on account of dues and important business to transact. We hope everything will prove favorable and that health will be given in place of sickness, very soon.

Mrs. D. A. Marsh, wife of the principal of the high school here, is reported quite ill at her home. Her many friends hope to hear the good news of her rapid recovery.

There are few patients yet in Presbyterian Hospital. The two trained nurses from Albany are still there; also Mrs. Pressler, the trained nurse from our own place, who is still there on night duty. She has been very faithful and is getting tired out and she has a heavy cold at present.

The funeral of Walter Martin was held from his late home in the Dr. Reed building Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. His pastor, the Rev. Foster A. Coon, preached the sermon, he being the second son who has passed away from this fearful disease, "influenza." Certainly the Martin family have been sorely afflicted. He is survived by his wife and one little daughter, his parents and several brothers. These people have the sympathy of the community. The floral display was very fine, showing the high esteem in which he was held. The interment was in Highland cemetery, under the direction of Undertaker W. E. Wilcox.

The Rev. D. G. Lawson and wife have been spending some time here with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Lent on Milton avenue.

Mrs J. C. Dederick has been ill at her home on Maple avenue. At present she is improving and expects soon to be able to go out doors.

Theron DuBois's family have nearly all of them been suffering from colds.

Mrs. Edgar Eckert and her daughter, Miss Edna, are both ill with heavy colds and also some fever, yet can say they are on the gain, as many others are.

Mr. Wiesnier of Maple avenue was in Dutchess county last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Atkins had guests last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Clearwater, who are at Lake Mohonk every summer, are now at Irvington. Both have been ill. At last report they were improving, which is good news.

The tailor, J. P. Whitley, is having a foundation put up for a dwelling on his lot next to Mrs. Julia Worden's on Vineyard avenue. When completed it no doubt will rent readily for families must have places to live in.

The epidemic of Spanish influenza (as it is called) seemed to strike the people of this place very heavy and, in fact, in many cases serious. The state physician, Dr. F. W. Laidlaw, was sent for and he made many calls on patients at their homes and was of great service in the church hospitals. His wife was here also and after he arrived the work was carried on very systematically and all had attention and his methods were universally approved and at present all in M. E. Church have been discharged and the building will be thoroughly disinfected, and those in Presbyterian Church are improving. The local people and Mrs. Pressler are nearly all worn out, for it has been day and night work for all. We hope that conditions will from now on be favorable and the disease stamped out all over.

Alfred Palmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Palmer of this place, has been very ill. He is at his wife's home in Poughkeepsie at this time. He is improving, which is good news to his relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lent, also their little daughter, have all been afflicted with the grip, and at present are on the road to recovery.

Captain Reuben H. Decker of this place spent a few days in Pleasant Valley with relatives the first part of the week.

Mrs. Clarence Leroy, Mrs. Clifford Tolpening, Miss Bertha Dimsey, Mrs. J. C. Dederick and Mrs. E. H. Decker are all able to be around again. Some of them have been ill over two weeks and it seems every one complains of having so little strength and that necessary thing comes to all with the pace of a snail.

Mrs. Roy Benson and Mrs. J. Parks are improving slowly after their sickness.

High school opened Monday with few pupils. Parents seem to think they ought not to send their children yet.

ST. REMY.

St. Remy, Oct. 31.—On October 29th our community was called upon to follow to her last resting place one of our Sabbath school scholars, little Miss Edith Rothenberg, passing to the home beyond at the early age of eight years. She has left us, her Sunday school companions, with a longing to follow the bright spirit that has endeared itself to us all from babyhood. She was constant in her attendance at Sunday school and her sweet presence was an inspiration to us all and her constant attendance, no matter how inclement the weather, stands as a rebuke to those who through indifference take so little interest in this instruction. She has gone and those of her family who mourn her loss have our heartfelt sympathy, for their loss is ours also, and while we shall miss her sadly we feel that Heaven is richer for this bud which has been so early transplanted.

Abu Simbel.

The temples of Abu Simbel are a group of rock-cut shrines in the banks of the Nile. The four giant colossi guarding the entrance to the main temple gaze tranquilly over the river from their rocky perch. For ages these huge figures have kept their vigil by the waters, weary yet faithful sentinels of the Nile. They are supposed to represent Rameses the Second, and smaller figures of the great king's queens and children keep watch with their husband and father.

Difficulty of Fashion.

Before the clothes reformers abolish men's vests they should consider well the matter of providing storage room for watches, matches, eyeglasses, lead pencils, business cards, cigars, cigarettes and a few odds and ends, to say nothing of the safety deposit pocket inside the garment where the rural visitor keeps his currency.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

ASK GROCERS FOR

DRUGGISTS!! PLEASE NOTE VICK'S VAPORUB OVERSOLD DUE TO PRESENT EPIDEMIC

Tremendous Demand Last Few Days Has Wiped Out Excess Stocks That We Had Estimated Would Last Until Next January---Last Week's Orders Called For One and Three-Quarter Million Jars---Today's Orders Alone Amount to 932,459 Jars.

Big Shipments Are En Route to Jobbers—Until These Arrive There May Be a Temporary Shortage, All Deals Postponed—Buy in Small Lots Only.

RETAILERS CAN GET IMMEDIATE SHIPMENTS DIRECT BY PARCEL POST.

This advertisement is written on Monday, October 21st. It is directed to the attention of all distributors of Vick's VapoRub, both wholesale and retail. In an emergency such as the present epidemic—our duty—and your duty—is to distribute VapoRub in the quickest possible manner to those sections stricken by influenza. We, therefore, call your careful attention to the following:

DANGER OF SHORTAGE IF SUPPLY IS NOT CONSERVED.

On October 1st we had on hand, at our factory and in twenty warehouses scattered over the country, sufficient VapoRub to last us, we thought, until January 1st, allowing for a 50 per cent increase over last year's sales, and not counting our daily output. This big excess stock had been accumulated during the summer months.

Then this epidemic of Spanish influenza hit us— and in the last ten days this stock has vanished. At first we thought this tremendous demand would last only a few days, but the orders have run:

Wednesday, Oct. 16, 18,504 Doz.
Thursday, Oct. 17, 25,323 Doz.
Friday, Oct. 18, 39,256 Doz.
Saturday, Oct. 19, 45,833 Doz.
Monday, Oct. 21, 77,705 Doz.

Up to Saturday, October 19th, we have actually shipped for this month $400,284.10, or over two million jars of VapoRub.

THE PROBLEM NOW IS TO DISTRIBUTE VAPORUB QUICKLY.

Most of this tremendous quantity is still en route to the jobbers, but freight and express are both congested nowadays, and it may be some time before this supply reaches the jobbers. In the meantime, therefore, it is necessary that we distribute, as widely as possible, the stock that we are manufacturing daily, together with that now on the jobbers' and retailers' shelves, in order that it may get to the influenza districts quickly. Our normal output is about 4,000 dozen per day. We are putting on a night shift, but it will be a little while before that is producing.

WHAT WE ASK THE WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS TO DO.

Last Saturday we notified all of our jobbers by special delivery as follows:

1st—Deals and quantity shipments of all kinds are cancelled. Fill no quantity orders of any kind, whether taken by our salesmen or by your own. Sell in small lots only.

2nd—Order from us in as small quantities as possible. If you are out we will try to ship a limited amount by parcel post or express, and pay the charges ourselves.

3rd—In order to make distribution still quicker, we will ship direct to your retail customers quantities not more than three (3) dozen 30c size at any one shipment.

4th—We are now out of the 60c size and will be for the next 10 days.

WHAT WE SHALL ASK THE RETAIL DRUGGIST TO DO.

Buy in as small quantities as possible. If you have any quantity orders, given the jobber's salesmen or given to our salesmen, don't bother about them—no need to write us—it is absolutely impossible to fill these orders at this time. If the jobbers in your territory are out of Vick's VapoRub, we will ship you by parcel post, prepaid, quantities not more than three (3) dozen 30c size in any one order. Naturally, we can't open accounts at this time, so your check or money order for this amount must accompany order. Don't write us stating to ship through your jobber, as we have to wait until we write this jobber and get his O. K. If you wish the goods to come through your jobber, have him order them for you.

SNOWED UNDER WITH CORRESPONDENCE.

Our force has already been "shot to pieces"—twenty-four of our men are wearing Uncle Sam's khaki—and this recent rush has simply buried us. All our sales force has been called in to help in the office and factory. We just mention this so you won't hold it against us if your wires and letters aren't answered promptly.

SPECIAL BOOKLETS ON SPANISH INFLUENZA.

We will send, on request, to any retail druggist, 100 or more little booklets, just issued, on Spanish Influenza, giving the latest information about this disease—its history—the symptoms—the treatment, and particularly the use of Vick's VapoRub as an external application to supplement the physician's treatment.

THE NEW WAYS TO USE VAPORUB.

In addition to the usual method of using VapoRub—that is, applied over the throat and chest covered with hot flannel cloths—our customers are writing us daily telling of their success in using VapoRub in other ways, particularly as a preventive. They melt a little in a spoon and inhale the vapors arising, or melt it in a benzoin steam kettle. Where the steam kettle is not available, VapoRub can be used in an ordinary tea kettle. Fill the tea kettle half full of boiling water, put in half a teaspoon of VapoRub from time to time—keep the kettle just slowly boiling and inhale the steam arising.

According to a bulletin just issued by the Public Health Service, Dr. Stiles, of this service, recommends that the nose be kept greased as a preventive measure against the influenza germs. For this purpose VapoRub is excellent.

KINGSTON SHOWS SPIRIT OF SERVICE

Trial We Have Just Passed Through Has Brought Out a Spirit of Service That Was Practical and Self-Sacrificing.

"I Was Sick and Ye Ministered Unto Me!"

"Inasmuch as Ye Did it Unto One of the Least of These, My Brethren, Ye Did it Unto Me!"

In the history of every community as well as individual, there are times that stand out in bold relief from all the every-dayness of life, because of the service which has been rendered to mankind under stress; and those are times which it is well to keep record of, not as a matter of vaingloriousness, but as a future encouragement for future needs.

Never in its history has Kingston passed through anything like the present epidemic, which we all hope is fast disappearing. This war has shown what this community can do in the matter of raising money and of hard work in that money raising. But it remained for this epidemic to prove what Kingston can do in the way of the hardest possible service of its brother man and woman, even to the risk of its own health and life.

A clean surgical case, may require a little nerve to nurse—in addition to training, etc.—and many forms of sickness can be cared for in a more or less romantic setting. But it must be admitted that the influenza, and the following pneumonia are at best about the nastiest forms of sickness that any human being can be afflicted with and another have to care for them. There could be no romance of any sort connected with the job, and that fact should not for one moment be overlooked.

Then again, miraculously as the armory was whipped, and scrubbed, and fitted into a temporary hospital, at the start practically all that the workers, responsible not for a fair or sale or entertainment but for human life, had to work with were beds for the patients and their own ingenuity.

The meeting of the board of health to consider the advisability of strenuous measure for the fighting of the epidemic was called on Tuesday evening, October 15th, and was attended by the head of the Woman's Motor Corps, Lieutenant A. D. White, commanding officer, who later called her forces together. And it was no trifling call that Lieutenant White issued. Yet it was instantly responded to, and members of the Motor Corps were on duty early Wednesday morning at the armory, ready for any kind of service.

In order to have the rooms at the armory fit for a hospital, walls had to be washed, floors swept and scrubbed, and no end of usually so-called "menial" tasks performed. Food had to be procured likewise hospital supplies and bedding, and every woman was efficiently on her job so that with the aid of the Boy Scouts, Drs. O'Meara, Chandler, Gage-Day, Van Hoevenberg, Gates, Gillett and Laidlaw of the state board of health, the hospital was ready to open its doors to patients on Wednesday evening, October 16th, a phenomenal performance.

The call for nurses, that is women who could nurse, and especially the Red Cross Nurses' Aids, had been sent out, and the response was prompt and generous. What was where the services of these splendid men and women was rendered day after day without diminution, unless they themselves became ill, as is the deeply regretable fact in a number of instances.

And the care that the patients received, no matter from how lowly a walk in life they came; no matter how young nor how old they were; was never perfunctory, but the heart and soul of the nurses was put into their work, and even such loving kindness and tenderness as would be shown to the sick in their own homes. Only the patients, the nurses and the Master whom they served will ever know all of the touching and beautiful incidents of this experience as well as its unpleasantnesses.

But neither could the patients recover without proper and nourishing food nor the helpers have had the endurance to continue their work without strength giving food. From the time that Lieutenant White asked Miss May Davis, head of the Home Economics Department of the high school, to assist in purchasing food supplies, etc.—and Miss Davis promptly took over the care of the food problem—until yesterday when the armory was finally cleared of all the cooking paraphernalia—Miss Davis and her efficient and tireless corps of workers were gloriously on the job.

Yet all of these activities had to have a clearing house for operating, and this was done through the office, which was in charge of Mrs. Chandler.

Mrs. William Hutton acted as housekeeper, being assisted by Mrs. Frank Keator.

While Charles A. Warren has already been publicly recognized as bookkeeper, he also did his bit in caring for the sick, and the telephone service was cared for by Abe Freeman. Everyone said that the services of the Boy Scouts were invaluable, and especially so because of the cheerfulness with which each task was performed. In fact, that spirit of cheerful unquestioning compliance with not only orders but requests, marked the entire operating of the Emergency Hospital, and showed above all else the genuineness of the desire to serve.

There follows a list of the names of the members of the Motor Corps, and a brief sketch of their activities:

Miss A. Freeman, Sergeant Mrs. E. Short and Mrs. David Terry, acted as volunteer nurses in the wards, and were therefore released from outside duties.

Miss M. Angle, Miss M. Bouton, Corp. Mrs. A. H. Chambers, Miss A. Dwyer, Corp. Miss M. Dwyer, Corp. Miss M. Herbert, Mrs. B. S. Hiltebrant, Miss M. Hiltebrant, Mrs. O. R. Hiltebrant, Miss E. Hasbrouck, Miss M. I. Kearney, Miss M. Keefe, Mrs. John Loughran, Miss M. L. Murphy, Miss C. Oppenheimer, Miss K. Pehleman, Miss Emily Rice, Mrs. J. D. Schoonmaker, Corp. Miss L. Schoonmaker, Miss Retta Smith, Miss Elsa Stern, Mrs. F. G. Traver, Sergt. Miss M. Townsley, Miss N. Woolsey, Miss R. Carl, Miss K. Ketterer, Miss R. Smith, Lieutenant A. D. White, commanding officer.

The members of the Motor Corps took care of the canteen service; conveyed the doctors who have no cars; attended to the wants of the board of health; attended to transporting the nurses to and from the hospitals at the different shifts, including those at midnight or later; did all the errands of the hospital, such as securing supplies, etc. Did errands and attended to wants of patients, taking the sick to the hospital from points in the city where the city ambulance could not go. Got the ministers for the sick and dying, and brought the patients' families to see them. During the first week, the members of the corps rendered day and night service, many of the young women putting in 18 and 20 hours' service without being released, and were again on duty at 6:45 a. m.

They are still taking care of sick families, supplying the wants of Mrs. Edmonston and her workers at the Children's Home, and are in the meantime attending to the wants of the soldiers around the aqueduct transporting many of them to St. Luke's Hospital, Newburgh.

Unusual as much of their service has been, and strenuous as it has all been, there has never been one word of protest nor a wish to do otherwise than ordered, a splendid and soldierly showing!

As far as the actual nursing service went, Dr. Sahler Hornbeck did his bit in taking entire charge of the medication, while the following trained nurses supervised the volunteers: Miss Bates, Mrs. William Glass, Mrs. Addison Pardee, Mrs. John Rodie, Mrs. Larkin, Mrs. Bailey, besides Miss Smith and Miss McElroy, state nurses.

Their assistants were: Mrs. Freeman, Miss Ruth Hogan, Mrs. David Terry, Miss Elsa Hiltebrant, Mrs. Relyea, Miss Mary Hickey, Miss Dolorita Hickey, Miss Helena Clearwater, Miss Westbrook, Miss Murray, Miss Scott, Mrs F. T. Stewart, Port Ewen: Mrs. Tongue, Mrs. Kraus, Miss Katharine O. Van Keuren, Mrs. Blanchard, Mrs. Watson Freer, Miss Edith Sturgeon, Miss Ruth Sturgeon, Mrs. Lovatt, Mrs. Bunten, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Miss Chipp, Miss Herbert, Miss Whitney, Miss Thompson, Miss Morey, Mrs. Schryver, Miss Riseley, Miss McCullough, Miss Anna McCullough, Mrs. Shaw, Mrs H. H. Shultz, Miss Finnegan, Miss Kaufman, Miss Mulligan, Mrs. Lockwood, Miss Kraus, Mrs. Kapewich, Mrs. Affron, Mrs. Delanoy, Miss Julia Darwak, Mrs. O'Neil, Mrs. Sanbery, Miss McCabe, Miss Kasson, Mrs. Claflin, Mrs. Hargreaves, Mrs. Murdock, Mrs. Matthews, Miss Matthews, Miss Van Steenburgh, Edith DuFlon, Miss Hutchins, Mrs. Vogel, Miss Edith Holmes, Miss Manning, Miss Bennett, Miss Mathilde Rice, Miss Satterlee, Miss Hughes, Miss Frances Hicks, Mr. Relyea, Fred Van Etten, Bert Lowe, Amasa Smith, Mr. Remus, Free Vignes, George Whittaker, George Washburn, A. K. Hart, Charles Finch, Mr. Quigley, Mr. Sneed, Mr. Eastmead, E. G. Adams, Gilbert Kennedy, Henry Klein, Edward Burhans, Claude Every, George Lawton, Mr. Atwater, E. E. Fessenden.

Those who assisted in the linen room were: Mrs. Hutton, Mrs. Frank Keator, Miss Edith DuFlon, Miss Hutchins, Miss Tongue, Miss Turner, Miss Manning, Miss Sturgeon, Mrs Frederick Warren, Mrs. Affron, Miss Case.

Those who did valiant service in the office, assisting Mrs. Chandler, were: Miss Eloise Myers, Miss Rose Kline, Miss Joslowitz, and Willis Markle.

Miss Davis was ably supported by workers whose names were not given by her to The Freeman.

In addition to all of the above mentioned help, any number of persons gave checks with which to purchase supplies; one woman sent 5 quarts of milk every morning; another sent ice cream twice each week; still another contributed 50 biscuits; six quarts of delicious potato salad was the gift of some one else, while a gift of cream to be whipped, each morning was duly appreciated. Home made pickles and jellies helped out materially, and for one week, the Rotary Club furnished all the meat. Soups and broths were other appreciated gifts, as was one donation of 6 apple pies. Chicken dinner with all the fixings, for the helpers the first Sunday, was Mr. Washburn's donation, and a fruit dealer left his gift of 2 boxes of California grapes. So it went, these being a few generous contributions jotted down at random!

With all of the confusion attendant upon instituting the hospit with its many details, it is certain that some names have missed being recorded, but most unintentionally. The Freeman would heartily appreciate it if any person whose name has been omitted would telephone the same to 1012-W as soon as possible, in order that there may be a complete record of all who served in this national crisis, as a matter of history.

There can be no adequate expression of gratitude for the services rendered, but it is certain that the entire community does deeply and sincerely appreciate the spirit of the men and women and young people who took up this burden and carried it so cheerfully and efficiently! As for the workers themselves, the knowledge of the service which they have rendered will always be their best thanks as the voice of inward appreciation comes from one who said, "I was sick, and ye ministered unto Me!" and "Inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye did it unto me!"

LOOKING BACKWARD.

Everybody perceives now that if we had gone to war with Germany as soon as that country's hideous purpose was made clear we should have saved thousands of lives and countless treasure. Yet on December 8, 1914, President Wilson thus addressed Congress:

More than this (preparedness for national defense) proposed at this time, permit me to say, would mean merely that we had lost our self-possession; that we had been thrown off our balance by a WAR WITH WHICH WE HAVE NOTHING TO DO, WHOSE CAUSES CANNOT TOUCH US, whose very existence gives us opportunities for friendship and disinterested service which should make impossible to us any hostile preparation for trouble.

The man who could speak thus must have been as blind as a newly-born puppy. It needed no prophet to see what was coming. Yet many people let the President do their thinking for them and Wilson was re-elected because "he kept us out of war." Even Vice-President Marshall a few weeks ago said:

I came here partly to make an apology—an apology for my attitude during almost two years and a half of that fateful conflict—an apology that a God fearing man in the twentieth century of civilization could have dreamed that any nation, any people or any man could be neutral when right was fighting with wrong.

Is Wilson less a man than Marshall, that he should not also apologize? At any rate, would it not be more becoming, in view of his record, to cease his pretence that he alone is fit to have a voice in the management of the United States?

DEMOCRACY AT HOME.

It is surprising to find a senator of the United States virtually proposing to give the President autocratic powers in the matter of treaty making at the very moment when the President is insisting that such powers shall be taken away from the Emperor of Germany. Senator Lewis of Illinois is evidently moved by patriotic impulse and no doubt means well, but he can hardly realize what he is doing when he offers a resolution seeking to commit the Senate in advance to approval of "whatever methods he (the President) may employ to achieve the results of victorious peace and the establishment of the principles for which the United States entered the war."

Senator Lewis's resolution seeks to give the President powers with which the constitution has not invested him. Peace when made is a matter of treaty, and under the Constitution the President can make treaties only with the advice and consent of the Senate, two-thirds of the Senators present being required to give their votes in order to secure any treaty's ratification. This basic rule has not always been strictly obeyed. But, aside from the ever-present need of upholding our governmental structure and preserving the existing balance between the co-ordinate branches of the government, there is now added reason why this rule should be fully observed.

How can we consistently demand that autocracy be overturned in Germany, and that the German people themselves be truly represented in their government at the present time, if we do not studiously avoid anything that looks toward even the appearance of autocracy at home? While we insist that the world be made safe for democracy, let us make sure that that governmental principle is still regnant in our midst. The voice of the people must be clearly heard at Washington, the co-ordinate branches of the government must continue to exercise their constitutional functions, in a word, democracy must rule on this side of the Atlantic, if our anti-autocracy campaign against a corrupt and medieval German government is to be armed with consistency and justice as well as with strength. All this may be done without weakening the Executive's arm in the exercise of his great constitutional powers.

There should be no question regarding the election of the Hon. Joseph M. Fowler as County Judge. If one has thought of expressing the slightest doubt of his complete fitness for the office, he has the partisan, the legal education and the high character which should distinguish an ideal judge. Furthermore, Mr. Fowler is an earnest Republican and Ulster is a Republican county. There is no possible reason why any Republican should permit himself to be coaxed into giving a complimentary vote to Mr. Fowler's opponent. A like observation is applicable to every other name on the ticket. Let us go to the polls and win an old-fashioned sweeping Republican victory.

A vote for Christopher K. Loughran for County Clerk is a vote to continue the present efficient conduct of the affairs of Ulster County. Everybody who has had business to transact at the Clerk's office during the last three years tells the same story of capable management and courteous treatment of the public. Not only has Mr. Loughran performed his regular duties in admirable fashion, but he has done a tremendous amount of other work connected with our war activities. In no way has he been found wanting, and it would be absurd to make a change in the office.

Senator Charles W. Walton and Assemblyman Joel Brink will be needed in Albany next winter. Very serious problems will confront the Legislature, no matter whether the war continues or its cessation brings new and puzzling questions of adjustment to be determined. In any event, it is evident that our State affairs should remain in the hands of experienced men who have records of efficiency behind them. This is no time for trying experiments.

The drawing up and signing of the new declaration of independence at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, by the representatives of twelve long-oppressed nations of Europe would be a great historical event even if the Mid-European States concerned did not have a combined population of 65,000,000 and had not sent 10,000,000 more as immigrants to the United States. That such an important document is impressive goes without saying, written as it is at a time when the principle of the consent of the governed is proclaimed throughout the world; but it does not and could not be expected to equal the matchless Declaration written by the immortal Jefferson.

"ATTABOY" AT STRATFORD

One Part of Baseball Language the British Populace Could Appreciate.

London, Oct. 19—(By Mail)—"Attaboy" has reached the home of the late William Shakespeare, who once asked: "What's in a name?" Peanuts have found their way into the sacred precincts of Warwick Castle. Both have made as big a hit as any of the many strictly American institutions imported bodily for the American fighters by the Y. M. C. A., the National Catholic War Council, K. of C., the Jewish Welfare Board and the Salvation Army,—the overseas organizations of the seven service agencies merged in the United War Work Campaign for $170,500,000.

Which is to say that about a hundred "Yanks" in training in England enjoyed under Y. M. C. A. auspices a wonderful week-end at Stratford-on-Avon and Warwick and entertained the townspeople with a baseball game. Selfridge, formerly of Chicago, now of London, donated fifty pounds of peanuts.

Baseball may not live in Stratford, but "Attaboy" will. As the punting parties pass each other on the Avon today, right now, they are saying "Attaboy." They are saying it at the Red Lion Inn, also at the Golden Horse. Even on the doorstep of the home of the immortal Shakespeare they are saying "Attaboy."

There is a reason. The natives of Shakespeare's town had about as much trouble understanding baseball, as baseball's votaries have in understanding Shakespeare. The populace wanted to understand the game. The whole town and countryside turned out; but "Slide, Andy, slide," "Caught stealing," "Dropped a dinky pop" and the like were a horrible jumble to English ears.

All that saved the day was "attaboy." It seemed euphonious—so easy to grasp, so fine to repeat. It showed that one knew at least something of the game.

Baseball at Stratford-on-Avon couldn't be looked upon except as [illegible] in the teaching of the [illegible] English cousins, but the [illegible] Effigent.

A little admixture of Charlie Chaplin, Harold Jennings and tumbling acrobats on the coaching line is a pantomime that can be understood in any language. And it's all the more thrilling when one knows that the solid-comfort coach was a New York mounted policeman, named Jack Sinnet, who has forsaken the horse for the aeroplane.

"Make a run and I'll kiss you," yelled the coach, and the crowd roared.

"Are you like it?" "Just till you get one as you like it." "Knock one over Ann Hathaway's Cottage—attaboy," yelled the coach.

Then later on when the score was safely 5 to 1 in favor of Sinnet's side he turned to the audience. "You see, Much Ado About Nothing."

I understand he came home now, and was seeing life as the Prince promised. It's all the same to Sinnet and the other Americans in Britain now, but when it comes to what is to follow—who knows?

"It's good for business," said another. "What does that mean to the Lord Chamberlain?"

"It's good for anything," said another, "who does encourage playing." And do they always call the ball the ball?

The [illegible] part of a two days' visit to Stratford-on-Avon [illegible] of a group of American War Service soldiers to Stratford-Warwick district, Kenilworth Castle, Leamington Spa and Coventry with a view to enlisting Indian laborers in recruiting for the war service and parts under the auspices of the American Y. M. C. A. [illegible] will live at Stratford.

"What is your objection to children?" asked the man who was hunting a flat. "I like 'em," replied the [illegible] "but it's the heart to ask [illegible] children to move into a place that was short of heat as this was last winter."—Washington Star.

Lesson in Spelling.

A country politician in Ohio was elected school commissioner. One day he visited a school and told the teacher he desired to examine the boys and girls.

A spelling class was put them at work, so the commissioner said he would inquire into the proficiency of that organization. The teacher gave him a spelling book and the pupils lined up in front of the mighty man. "Spell egypt."

"E-g-e-p-t," spelled the boy.

"Wrong. You spell it ——"

The next boy spelled it the same way, and the next and the next.

"Bad spellers," commented the commissioner to the distressed teacher.

"Why, sir," she protested. "They have all spelled egypt correctly."

"They have not."

"Will you let me see the word in the book?" I inquired meekly. "I am sure they have."

"Here it is," said the commissioner, and he pointed to the word "egypt."—Harper's Magazine.

Pulled 'Em Under.

Mrs. Nopsale was entertaining for the first time since her marriage. The soup and fish she served for dinner were quite all right, but the pudding—well, everyone fought with it manfully until, fearful of bending the young wife's new forks, they desisted.

"Mrs. Nopsale was heart-broken.

"Put that pudding out of my sight!" she said to the little skivvy. "Give it to the ducks at once!"

A few minutes later the little skivvy popped her head round the drawing room door and cried.

"Oh mum, I give that pudden to the ducks, and they're all sunk."—London Answers.

Was It Worth It?

Jack Tarte unlimited was Willie Bobbie's idea of heaven, but since the war Jack came in and Tarte was scarce [illegible] Willie's quite so fond of them as he [illegible]

Mother [illegible] the kitchen one afternoon, saw Bobby gazing at a dish of newly baked tarts.

"What are you doing, Bobby?" she asked sharply.

"I was just wondering, mother."

"Wondering? You haven't touched those tarts, I hope?"

"Not yet, mother," said Bobby. "I was just wondering if they're nice enough to be whipped for."—London Answers.

Non-Committal.

For non-committal brevity of speech command us, if you please, to the Yankee lord of the soil. One such, who was recently making a visit to the city was knocked down in the street by an automobile. A sympathizing crowd instantly surrounded him, with condolences and questions.

"Are you hurt, my friend?" kindly asked a gentleman who was first among the rescuers, as he helped the sufferer to his feet and brushed the mud and dust from his clothes.

"Well," came the cautious reply, "I don't [illegible] me no good."—Youth's Companion.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

We should be kearful how we encurridge hoarries. It is but a step forward from noe cake to plum puddin', but it's a mile and a half by the nearest road when we have to go back again.—Josh Billings

SHORT NOTICE DISHES.

The housewife who is at all efficient tryz to have something that may be drawn upon for an emergency when the unexpected guest or "three ware invited here come nine," which will sometimes happen in the best regulated neighborhoods. A cream soup with crackers or croions will make a good beginning for any meal after breakfast or if broth of any kind is at hand a variety of soups may be prepared on short notice. Canned soups are another available dish. A white sauce with fish, flesh or fowl or almost any vegetable, cold cooked eggs or macaroni will make a good main dish.

An omelet is always welcome and the housewife who keeps herself well supplied with eggs need not worry if she knows how to prepare a fluffy tasty omelet.

A half a cupful of rice may be browned in a little butter, then water added to cook it, and when tender stir in two or three eggs with a little milk or cream with seasonings. This will taste like scrambled eggs with use of half the number.

For dessert one may always call upon the preserve closet, and with a cracker or small sponge cake or piece of fruit cake with a hot drink, the dessert is easy. If a stale cake is in one's possession, steam it and make a sauce of a cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of flour well blended, and just enough boiling water to cook the mixture until smooth, then add a nice lump of butter, a grating of nutmeg, and a tablespoonful or two of good vinegar, with a pinch of salt. Serve the same hot as well as the steamed cake.

Another quick dessert is called "Fifteen Minute Pudding," and is one every housewife should know how to prepare. Take a cupful of flour, mixed with a teaspoonful of baking powder, a little salt and a cup of milk. Put into greased cups with a layer of any juicy fruit like cherries in between the spoonfuls of batter. Steam 15 minutes in a dish of boiling water. Serve with cream.

BAN KEPT IN FORCE BY HEALTH BOARD

Decide Not to Open Schools Next Week, While Churches and Theaters Will Remain Closed Until Wednesday, When Board Meets Again.

Basing their action largely on the opinion of the city's physicians, the health board in special session Wednesday afternoon decided to keep the city schools closed all next week, and to keep the churches and theaters closed until next Wednesday, when the board will meet again to consider the epidemic situation in Kingston. It was also decided not to dismantle the emergency hospital in the armory or the child welfare station at the home of the Holy Childhood in Ponckhockie.

Mayor Canfield presided at the session, with Commissioners Michael, Kaufman, Norwood, Huhne and Mahar present. Drs. Dan Connelly, A. A. Stern, J. S. Robinson and Laidlaw, Health Officer Van Hoevenberg, Captain Everett Fowler, Superintendent M. J. Michael and Mrs. Thomas Edmonston and Mrs. Hall were also present at the meeting.

What Physicians Said.

Dr. Van Hoevenberg, the acting health officer, stated that the epidemic seemed to be on the wane, but from conversations he had had with various physicians as well as private citizens, the general opinion seemed to be that the health board should keep the ban on for another week at least.

Secretary Fred Sahloff, of the board, stated he had called up every physician in the city and tried to get their opinion in the matter of lifting the ban or keeping it in force for another week. He had been able to reach sixteen physicians and of that number thirteen were in favor of keeping the ban on while three said they saw no objection to raising it. The physicians who believed the ban should be kept on were Drs. Bongartz, Dan Connelly, Eastman, Gillett, Hasbrouck, Norwood, Mambert, O'Meara, Quinlan, Stern, Van Hoevenberg, Van Wagenen and Vrooman, while the three who saw no objection to raising the ban were Drs. J. G. O'Leary, Gates and Robinson.

Captain Fowler's Suggestion.

Captain Everett Fowler was extended the privilege of the floor and stated that in his opinion he believed the emergency hospital and the child welfare home in Ponckhockie not be dismantled, but should be kept in readiness if necessary to open again. He said he had hoped the epidemic was over, but one physician had informed him that at the present time the city institutions were in a position to care for but ten more patients.

Suggestion Accepted.

Mayor Canfield said he believed Captain Fowler's suggestion was a good one. Commissioner Mahar moved that the emergency hospital in the armory and the child welfare home in Ponckhockie be kept intact until the next meeting of the board, which was unanimously adopted.

This means that the equipment will be kept ready in the building to be used at an instant's notice if necessary.

Keep Closed Said Stern.

Dr. A. A. Stern said he was heartily in favor of keeping all public institutions, churches, theaters and schools closed. No one can tell when the epidemic will stop, or if there will be a reoccurrence. The disease is on the wane, but the ban should be kept on. If we can save lives it is worth while.

Need Cold Snap.

Dr. Dan Connelly said that in his opinion there would be more cases reported and the epidemic would continue as long as the weather remained like it was that day. When we get a cold snap it will quiet down. He believed the quarantine regulations should be kept in force at least another week.

Superintendent Michael Speaks.

Superintendent M. J. Michael said that he would defer to the opinion of the city physicians who were in close touch with conditions. The school faculties are anxious to get back to work, but if it would work harm to reopen the schools at the present time they should be kept closed. He said he was at the meeting for information rather than to give advice, but in his opinion if the schools were opened next week they would have but an attendance of 50 per cent, as the parents were panicky and would keep their children home.

Dr. Robinson's Cheering Note.

Dr. John S. Robinson, one of the physicians who had voted in favor of lifting the ban, was present. He said that this was the second epidemic of influenza he had gone through. Judging from the reports made by the physicians and from what he had learned there could not be over 5,000 people remaining in Kingston who would be subject to the disease.

Only Have It Once.

In his opinion he said that there was no more danger of a reoccurrence. The influenza was like measles if you have it once you won't get it again. He saw no harm in opening the churches but owing to the weakened condition of the children who had the disease it might not be wise to open the schools for another week.

Dr. Laidlaw Didn't Agree.

Dr. Laidlaw, the district superintendent, said that the epidemic in Kingston was not wholly over. That it would be a mistake to raise the ban. The figures reported by the physicians of 7,494 cases he believed to be correct. 28 per cent of the population had been affected by the disease.

"I regret to differ with Dr. Robinson," said Dr. Laidlaw. "One attack does not make a person immune." He said that was borne out by the federal health records.

He believed that if the ban was raised at this time that people would relax care thinking that the epidemic was over.

Report of Influenza.

The following report of conditions was read:

Total number of cases reported	7,494
Total number of deaths	192
Total number of deaths from influenza	118
Total number of deaths from pneumonia	42
Total number of deaths from other diseases	32

Deaths from influenza and pneumonia according to ages:

0 to 10	19
10 to 20	22
20 to 30	51
30 to 40	31
40 to 50	11
50 to 60	8
60 to 70	9
70 to 80	7
Age not given	2

Deaths from influenza and pneumonia according to sex:

Males	81
Females	79

Schools Closed For Week.

The board voted to keep the schools closed until Saturday, November 9, and to continue the other quarantine regulations in force until Wednesday when another special meeting would be held. This means that the theaters will not be allowed to open and that no church services will be held on Sunday.

Reports Read.

The report on the Child Welfare station in Ponckhockie was submitted by Mrs. Thomas Edmonston and was filed, as was the report of Miss May E. Davis on the Emergency Hospital kitchen.

Mayor Canfield said it was impossible to personally thank all the volunteers who had so freely offered their services during the epidemic but that the board of health desired to go on record as extending a vote of sincere thanks to every one who in any way helped. A resolution to that effect was introduced and adopted.

"BERLIN OR BUST" WRITES SACCOMAN

Gasless Sunday Order a Fine Thing, He Thinks and Red Cross Worthy of All Support as it "Treats the Boys O. K."

Fred A. Gerhardt of No. 161 East Chester street has received the following letter from Sergeant Ralph Saccoman:

France, Oct. 7, 1918.

Dear Friend Fred:

Your letters of August 28, ult. received which I was more than glad to hear from you. It was a surprise to me. I never dreamed of getting a letter from you, but I see it was laxity on my part for not writing to you so your letter is a good reminder.

I was glad to hear that you were up to Ellenville trying to raise funds for the Red Cross. They are worthy of all they can get, and they deserve every bit that is contributed by the people towards them, for they sure treat the boys O. K. Talk about your aeroplanes, why that's nothing new here, and you said it, that there is no dancing here. The only dancing you see is trying to duck the whistling bullets and the effects of the aeroplanes, but that doesn't worry us a particle. It only adds some more spirit to our feeling.

I think that that order on not using cars for pleasure riding on Sundays is very good, not only that it means a day off for you frequently but it eliminates the consumption of millions of gallons of gas and oil, which can be used on this side to more advantage and accomplishment. I'll bet the people are perfectly satisfied with the staying at home on Sundays, and I know that every one back in the states is in back of us every move we make and we are going to do our best and will bring victory before returning. (Berlin or Bust.)

You may bet that if there is any good time to be gotten out of these French towns we get it, leave it to the Yankees, and the joke of it is that when you meet a French lassie, you make a date with her and call at her house. The consequences are that you get acquainted and they ask you to call again, so the next time you go, the father of the girls presents the caller with a marriage contract for him to sign. If you decline to sign that contract you are not a welcome visitor from that day on, and if you do sign, you are in a fix, so you see some of the good boys from home that sign those so-called contracts will have a terrible time explaining their whereabouts while in France.

Fred, there are a lot of interesting things that I could state to you if I only were allowed to, but it can't be done, so we will wait till we get back to the states and then we will discuss all about it. Say, tell the boss to save me the job of mowing down the grass on the yard when I get back.

Will close with best wishes and kind regards to you and your wife, I remain your friend

RALPH.

JOHN LAW KILLED BY U. & D. TRAIN

John Law of Chichester was struck and killed by a U. & D. passenger train running between Kaaterskill and Phoenicia at 6:10 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The train was in charge of Engineer C. Lasher and Conductor R. S. Baldwin. Mr. Law, who was a resident of Chichester, had gone up Silver Hollow after his cows and was struck while returning home. Coroner Kelly was notified and turned the remains over to Undertaker H. Lee Breithaupt of Phoenicia. Law was employed by W. O. Schwarzwaelder in the chair factory in Chichester.

Spencer's Business School Notes.

The folowing graduates of Spencer's School have lately obtained good office positions:

Miss Hannah Hinkley of the stenographic department has secured a desirable office position as stenographer and clerical assistant with Dr. A. C. Gates, Broadway, this city.

Miss Jennie Stephenson, a student in stenography at Spencer's School, has obtained a good situation as stenographer and office assistant with the Ulster & Delaware Railroad, auditor's office, this city.

Miss Leila Delamater, a civil service graduate, has secured an excellent position with the government at Fort Jay, Governor's Island. Miss Delamater is serving as stenographer and typist in the warehouse department of the government.

More stenographers are needed right along by the government, and it is the desire of Spencer's great school to assist in this matter as much as possible. The need is pressing, as communications from Washington indicate. The president of Spencer's School therefore urges every young person to prepare himself at the earliest possible moment to accept these lucrative positions and at the same time help the government in this emergency. Students should arrange now, and between now and November 11th, they may telephone Mr. Kelly's residence for further information. The call is 1052-W. The day and night sessions will resume work very soon. Due announcement will be made in daily papers.

Services at St. Mary's Church.

Open air Masses will be celebrated on the grounds of St. Mary's Church Friday, All Saints Day, at 7, 8 and 9 o'clock. The hours for Masses on Saturday, All Souls' Day, will be the same.

Roosevelt Not to Resign.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

Washington, Oct. 31.—Reports that Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin D. Roosevelt planned to resign that post to enlist in the navy were declared to be without foundation by Mr. Roosevelt today.

Emmick Fined $5.

Everett Emmick was arrested on Wednesday evening by Officer Martin for running his auto past a trolley car on the left hand side of the street on Broadway, near McEntee street. This morning he was fined $5 in police court.

Willie on O'Reilly Street.

Willie is being laid on East O'Reilly street in the block from Broadway to the U. & D. crossing. This will make a big improvement in front of the Central Fire Station on that street.

Newburgh Paper Raises Price.

The Newburgh News has announced an increase in price to 3 cents for single copies and 15 cents per week to become effective November 4.

Card of Thanks.

To the employes of the Nitro Powder Company I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks for the valuable aid rendered me and my family in my late bereavement.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Duvall-Clark.

Corporal Frederick Duvall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Duvall of Napanoch, and Miss Florence Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Clark, of Ellenville, were united in marriage at All Angels' Episcopal Church in New York city on Monday, October 28, at 5:30 o'clock p. m. The rector of the church performed the ceremony which was with the ring service. The young people were attended by the Misses Hopkins and Dwyer of New York city, friends of the bride. Following the ceremony Miss Hopkins gave them a wedding dinner at her home. The decorations of the home and table wee of the beautiful autumn time and the lovely weather added charm to the happy occasion. The bride wore a travelling gown of blue cloth with hat to match, while the groom was in full uniform. Following the wedding dinner at Miss Hopkins's, the young people went to Hotel Vanderbilt, where they remained until next day, when they came by train to Wurtsboro and were met at the station by Miss Bradford and taken by auto to her cottage at Black Rock Yankee Lake, where the bride's sister Miss Carolyn Clark, had everything in readiness and a fine wedding dinner was given the young people. The decorations of the cottage were the beautiful autumn foliage and of the table flowers of the autumn time. Everything to make it a festive occasion was done adding charm to the happy occasion. Miss Bradford and Miss Clark returning to Ellenville, the bride and groom to remain at the cottage until Friday, when they return to Ellenville and Napanoch to spend the remainder of the groom's furlough, when he returns on Monday to camp at Greenville, S. C., where he is engaged as radio instructor and expects early in November to go overseas, and the bride will remain with her parents in Ellenville. The young people are popular in Ellenville, where their many friends join in extending to them very hearty congratulations and best wishes, although separated for a time when reunited again a long life together with happiness and prosperity crowned with the blessing of health.

INSTALLS FOCUS MACHINES.

Dr. Samuel Stern Adds Two New Machines to Equipment.

Dr. Samuel Stern, the well known optician down town, has installed two new focusing machines, making four machines with which his place of business is equipped. These machines are used to grind the rough glass used in lenses. Owing to the scarcity of ground glass Dr. Stern found it necessary to install the new machines as he has a large supply of rough glass on hand. Dr. Stern is the only retail focus grinder between New York and Rochester.

Men Wanted for the Navy.

Exemption Boards, Divisions 1 and 2, this morning received at headquarters, this city, orders to secure voluntary enlistments of men for service. Men are wanted qualified for general military service, between the ages of 18 to 36. This is what is known as a navy call. The following is the number of men called from this state: 100 boat builders, 50 expert boiler makers, 50 coppersmiths, 150 first class cooks, colored, 100 stewards, colored. The men are to entrain for 34 East 23rd street, New York city, on November 9, and the voluntary enlistment period closes on November 4, at the close of the business day. This is an excellent opportunity for men desiring to go into the navy to do so, if they are physically fit and secure good berths.

METTACAHONTS.

Mettacahonts, Oct. 31.—Mrs. Russell Miller and Mrs. Simeon Osterhoudt have returned home, after spending some time with Mrs. Nathan Osterhoudt, who has been seriously ill at her Whitfield home.

Mr. and Mrs. Eli Osterhoudt were enjoying a drive on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Osterhoudt and son, Edsell, and daughter, Olive, were pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William Wood on Sunday.

Benjamin Rider and sister, Delilah, were out driving on Sunday.

Jacob Kelder was busy repairing the tenant house of Mrs. S. E. Churchwell on Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Hornbeck, and Will Hornbeck of Whitfield were in town one evening last week.

Charles B. Osterhoudt autoed to Wawarsing on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan McCullough have been entertaining relatives from out of town.

PLUTARCH.

Plutarch, Oct. 31.—Mrs. Frank Donaldson died at her home on Tuesday, after a few days' illness of pneumonia. She was about 32 years of age. She leaves a husband and six small children to mourn her loss. They have the sympathy of the community in their sad hour. The father and three of the children are sick.

Martin Anderson and family have moved to New York for the winter. Leslie Mott of Esopus moved them with his motor truck.

Amog those who are ill are: Miss Helen Bedell, Mettie Van Nostrand, Harry Van Nostrand and Venius Elliott.

Mrs. John Van Nostrand and Mrs. Nelson Van Ostrand are ill with colds and influenza.

Dennis Carroll has had new cow stables put in his barn and built a new chicken house and had some of his out buildings roofed. William Tompkins did the work.

Judson Van Vliet and George Dirk have each purchased a team of horses. They are doing a good business in sawing and selling wood.

Oscar DeGraff had the misfortune to lose a horse last week.

Mrs. Henry Warncke visited friends at Tarrytown this week.

ULSTER PARK.

Ulster Park, Oct. 31.—Miss Ethel Conant, of Union Center, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Montague Cole.

Miss Alberta Silkworth, of Kingston, spent a few days with Mrs. C. Van Oostenbrugge.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pruden, of Kingston, were the week end guests of Mrs. I. Marley.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Smith attended the funeral of her grandfather at Accord Saturday. The trip was made by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. John Van Oostenbrugge, of Hackensack, N. J., spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Van Oostenbrugge.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Van Aken and family, Mrs. Corbett and Miss Margaret Freeman enjoyed an automobile trip to New York city Sunday.

Miss Ella Boynton, of New York, is spending some time at her new summer home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cole and family and James Conant spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mattison, of Rhinebeck.

The Rock Church will reopen Sunday with the usual services: Sunday school at 9:30 and morning worship at 10:30. Let all members of both Sunday school and church try and attend.

THE VLY.

The Vly, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Isaiah Krom is around again after being ill for some time. Her many friends are glad that she has improved in health.

Mrs. Irving Jansen is not very well at this writing.

Hazzie Trowbridge is still out with his steam thresher.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Palen and family were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Christiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Hazzie Trowbridge and Mr. and Mrs. Lottie Trowbridge were the guests of Russel Trowbridge Sunday afternoon.

Leat Palen, son of Gordon Palen, expects to go to New York, where he will be treated for his hearing.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jansen and daughter, Charlotte, were the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Beesmer.

Hazzie Trowbridge, wife and sisters, Nita and Freda, made a business trip to Kingston Saturday night.

GLASCO.

Glasco, Oct. 31.—The influenza epidemic still holds an unrelaxing grip upon the business and home life of the entire village. New cases are reported every day. The soup kitchen at Firemen's Hall is meeting the daily demands for potage au gras, having served over 160 patients today, and will "carry on" through the present week. The deaths so far during the week are Mrs. James Marilla, who leave a husband and several children; Rosie Negro, the little daughter of Thomas Negro, Mrs. Peter Missasus, whose husband is somewhere in France, serving his country, and a little daughter of Frank Ferraro, whose funeral was held this afternoon.

John McManamy, principal of the public school, walked out today with the aid of a cane, after a two weeks' illness of grip.

Six of the eight employes at the Washburn store and office are influenza victims, and unable to report for duty.

The honor flag for Glasco is up in the air at Fuller's corner. It is not a very pretty thing, but if money talks, then it speaks volumes.

Philip Carraro, in the U. S. service at Camp Dix, has been home on a short furlough.

Ward Mickel, of Spartanburgh, S. C., camp, writes that he has explored Lookout Mountain, one of the battle grounds of the Civil War, and other points of interests in the sunny south.

It's too bad we have to give up the Hallowe'en social with its visions of delicious pumpkin pies and other sweet things, including the girls, but then, between the epidemic and the war, we have learned to give up many good things, but let us be consoled by the hope that these present difficulties will be cleared away in time to give us a glorious Thanksgiving.

Our compliments to The Stroller.

ACCORD.

Accord, Oct. 31.—Miss Ruth Coddington is spending some time at Waterbury, Conn.

Mrs. Benjamin Osterhoudt has returned from a visit with friends at Middletown, N. Y.

Mrs. Ernest LeFever, of Kingston, is visiting her parents.

Mrs. Nellie Philips and children are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. J. Drake.

Guy Davenport is spending some time at New York city.

Frank Lawrence has been relaying some chimneys for R. Smith.

Alfred Lawrence is recovering from an attack of pneumonia.

H. J. Knickle was called to New Hackensack, Dutchess county, Thursday, by the death of a relative.

Mrs. Mary Baker is assisting Mrs. Herman Gazlay.

Optimistic Thought.

Self-reliance is the best weapon to fight the battle of life.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to thank my friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and death of my wife.

Signed, EDWARD CONNERS.

TURKEY OUT; AUSTRIA IS ON ITS WAY

Turkey Surrenders Unconditionally—Austria Will Probably do the Same—Tigris Army Surrenders—Armistice Signed at Salonika.

London, Oct. 31.—Turkey dropped out of the war at noon today.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Austria-Hungary is on the verge of following in Turkey's footsteps if she has not already done so.

Turkey surrendered unconditionally. The armistice was signed at Salonika.

The Austro-Hungarian commander in chief in the field appealed to General Diaz for an armistice and the appeal was referred to the Allied Council at Versailles.

It is believed that an unconditional surrender will be demanded of the dual monarchy. Austria planned to time her capitulation to coincide with that of Turkey's, officials believe here, and sent it today.

It is not known here this afternoon whether an Austrian armistice had yet been signed. Austria is crumbling rapidly in both a military and politcal way and it is apparent that Germany will soon stand alone.

Turkey was made absolutely helpless by the terms imposed upon her.

Ismail Hakki, commander of the Turkish forces in Mesopotamia, surrendered one whole division of the Tigris army and the best part of two others.

At Salonika, where the armistice was signed, a vice-admiral of the British navy acted for England.

General Townshend, the British commander who was captured by the Turks, was the peace messenger who brought about the surrender of Turkey. Geseral Townshend was liberated by the Turkish authorities and sent to inform Admiral Clathorpe that Turkey desired an immediate armistice.

ODDS AND ENDS.

M. Haley has purchased through the real estate agency of W. F. Abernethy the Phinney homestead on Wilbur avenue.

Javanese Orchids.

There is a very interesting orchid in Java, the grammatophyllum, all the flowers of which open at once, and they also all wither together.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New York, Oct. 31.—There was an abrupt change in the market mood at the opening of the stock exchange today when an urgent demand was in evidence in all of the various groups of stocks and a feeling of further confidence prevailed. Trading was extremely nervous, however, with some selling orders from commission house clients causing irregularity at the start but after the first transactions the general market showed pronounced strength and at the end of the first fifteen minutes a high level was established all through the list. The greatest gain was in Mexican Petroleum, which advanced 4¾ points to 150. There was excited trading in Steel Common at the beginning of business, the first sales being from 102 to 101½, passing the lower record of July but within a short time rallied to 102⅝. Baldwin advanced 2 points to 79 and Southern Pacific yielded ¾ to 99½ and then advanced to 101⅝. Marine Preferred rose over one point to 116½. All the copper stocks were active and strong, Chile moving up 1 point to 22, Kennecott, ¾ to 38⅞, and American Smelting, 1¾ to 85.

Another selling movement occurred in the market about 11 o'clock, most of which was belated liquidation of accounts that had been crippled by the severe losses of the last three days. Steel Common, after moving up to 102¾, reacted to 100⅞. Baldwin, after selling up to 79, dropped to 76¾. Reading declined to 87⅛, while Southern Pacific, after advancing to 101⅝, fel to 100⅞.

The market was strong and active in the early afternoon. Steel Common selling up to 103, while Baldwin moved up to 80 and Bethlehem to 69. Mexican Petroleum moved up over 11 points from the low to 158¼, and Industrial Alcohol showed a gain of 3⅝.

The stock market closed strong today; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Albert Wolf, 62 years old, was found dead in bed at his home on Murray street on Wednesday. He had been ill with influenza and was unattended by a physician. Coroner Kelly turned the body over to Undertaker W. C. Kukuk, and the funeral was held this afternoon from his funeral parlors on Downs street, with interment in Montrepose Cemetery. The Rev. A. Schmidtkonz officiated at the services. Mr. Wolf is survived by his wife. For many years he conducted a shoe repairing shop on Hasbrouck avenue, near Murray street, and was well known in the lower section of the city.

Louis Eiten, the well known downtown jeweler, died Thursday morning at his home on Hone street, of pneumonia, aged 42 years. He is survived by his wife and two children, a boy and a girl. Mr. Eiten, who had a jewelry store at No. 29 Broadway, had only been ill about ten days. He came to Kingston about eleven years ago from Brooklyn and opened a jewelry store at No. 74 Broadway, and later removed to his present location, where he had been located for the past few years. He was also well known in Brown Station where he made frequent visits selling jewelry to the men employed on the Ashokan reservoir. He had served in the Russian army and was in active service in Manchuria during the Russo-Japanese war. He was a man deeply interested in current events and was able to converse intelligently about them. Mr. Eiten was highly educated in Hebrew and could quote the Bible fluently. He was held in high esteem by all who knew him. The funeral will be held Friday morning from the late residence at 10 o'clock with interment in Montrepose cemetery.

The many friends of the late Abraham Mollott and Mrs. Mollott, will be shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Mollott at her home, 57 Crown street, on Wednesday afternoon, only three days after her husband's death. Mrs. Mollott had been in poor health for some time, but her death was very sudden. Mrs. Mollott, whose maiden name was Rose Fischkin, was born in Minsk, Russia, a place now famous in history. After establishing himself in business in Kingston, Mr. Mollott returned to his home in Minsk, Russia, for his young bride, whom he had left there, and together Mr. and Mrs. Mollott came to Kingston, where Mr. Mollott was engaged in the merchant tailoring business and they made a home, rearing a family of children of whom they might be well proud. Mrs. Mollott is survived by two sons, Alick W., of this city; Corporal Jacob Mollott, a member of the band of the 51st Pioneer Infantry, now "Somewhere in France;" Mrs. G. N. Sponsler of Baltimore, Md.; Mrs. E. M. Lebowitz of New York city; Miss Libbie Mollott of this city, and Miss Esther Mollott, now serving in a government position in Washington, D. C. The funeral services were held this afternoon at the family home, No. 57 Crown street, at 2 o'clock, with interment in Montrepose Cemetery.

Train Jumped Track.

The O. and W. train which left the Fair street station at 9:05 this morning, jumped the track. The tender went off at the rear of Augustus Elmendorf's residence in Old Hurley. The passengers were delayed about three hours. No one was injured and the damage was slight.

Selling Many Automobiles.

Sam Affron, the progressive automobile dealer, who owns the Empire Garage at 31 Broadway, has sold a Hudson Super-Six to Edward Malia of this city. Mr. Affron is going to change the name of his garage to the Affron Used Car Exchange. He sold seven cars last week and two this week.

SASS COMMENDED BY HIS COLONEL

Splendid Behavior in Saving the Life of Corporal Canfield Marks Him a Soldier of the Highest Type.

Corporal Frank Sass, Company M, 51st Pioneer Infantry, in a letter just received by his parents in this city, encloses the following letter from Col. Deming:

CORPORAL FRANK SASS.

Headquarters 51st Pioneer Inf., American Ex. F., 13th Sept., 1918.
From: The Commanding Officer 51st Pioneer Inf.
To: Corp. Frank Sass, 1228597, 51st Pioneer Inf.
Subject: Meritorious Conduct.

1. The following has been brought to my attention, that on the night of August 30, 1918, immediately after the explosion of a bomb, dropped from an enemy airplane, which caused nine casualties, you lifted bodily Corporal Julian K. Canfield and carried him from a lookout station of the car in which said Corporal Canfield was then riding, over and into an adjoining car, and placing him upon the sand in the car, with great presence of mind, applied a tourniquet to his wounded leg, which undoubtedly resulted in saving Corporal Canfield's life.

2. For your splendid behavior in the manner shown above and as a soldier of the highest type, and one who reflects credit upon himself and the organization to which he belongs, I most highly commend you.

J. GUY DEMING,
Colonel 51st Pioneer Inf.

Corporal Sass writes as follows to his parents:

Oct. 11, 1918.

Dear Parents:

I received your letter of September 29th a few days ago. I am very glad to know that you have received my mail, which I sent just about five weeks ago. From the information that you tell me I think that the mail service is very good. I received a letter from John, also, on the same day that I received the letter from you. John tells me he landed somewhere in England, and from there he came over here to France. He also told me the name of the town in which he was staying. I came through the same town on my trip up here. He is quite a long distance from me. I also received a letter from Lizzie. That was one of my lucky days, and I was so happy to get so much mail all in one day.

I wrote Mr. Schoonmaker about a week ago, and no doubt he will be glad to hear from me. He will tell you about it, I suppose. Thank him for me, for the luck he has wished me. I have had some luck already. You will know about it later.

We received some Freemans some time ago, and in one of them I saw a little article about Andrew Mathia and eight others who were going to some school to learn some trade. He is surely getting away very soft.

I wrote to Frank Krause two or three times since I have arrived here, but I have not heard from him. Yet I am looking for some mail from him every day. I have had no chance to ask about the allotment yet, but the very first chance I get I will find out about it. Well, now that I have tried to answer everything you asked, I will have to tell you the same old story, that the boys are all well, and working hard seven days a week. They know that this is no time to play. They realize that everything they do helps finish this war.

We are beginning to feel the October weather, just as we did when we were at Camp Meade, back in the states. I guess I will be able to stand it. I done it before. The only difference is this. I lived in a tent then, but now I don't know what kind of a roof I will have over my head from day to day.

I received a letter from my commanding officer, the colonel, for a little deed I done some time ago. I am going to enclose it, and I hope you get it O. K. I want you to keep it for me because it is worth a great deal to me. It will be something that I can show when I come back. You can show it to J. D. Schoonmaker, if you will.

Today was the first chance I had to buy some candy and cigars. I paid Ns francs for a box of 25 cigars. That was not so bad.

How are the kiddies getting along. How are Marie and Hattie. Are they still working in the shop, and how are Helen and Tillie. Are they still making the good headway at school? Have you heard anything from J. Schoolcraft and W. Swart?

Well, I think I have written enough for this time, because it is getting late and the Boche may come around, so I will close for this time. I am well and hope all at home are the same. I remain as ever, your loving son,

FRANK SASS.

WINDING UP THE WATCH ON THE RHINE

Don't Expect to See Johnny Come Marching Home the Day After the War Ends.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 31.—"Don't expect to see your boy come marching off the boat the week after the Germans surrender," said Myron T. Herrick, former ambassador to France in an interview yesterday. "It took us a good while to accustom ourselves to the idea of a long war; we must begin now to accustom ourselves to the thought that the process of winding up a war is also long and painful; and that whether peace comes next spring or summer or even before, we shall have our boys over there for a long time."

Governor Herrick was speaking with reference to the United War Work Campaign, set for November 11-18, combining the appeals of the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., National Catholic War Council (K. of C.), Jewish Welfare Board, War Camp Community Service, American Library Association and the Salvation Army. The amount sought is $170,500,000 and in Governor Herrick's judgment this total, and more will be necessary to see the boys of the army and navy through to their homes again.

"It must never be said of America that she left the slightest detail of her great task uncompleted," continued Governor Herrick. "Only those of us who have been in France, and seen the terrible cost of her great sacrifice, can realize what a stupendous problem in reconstruction and rehabilitation is facing her. In this task America must have a part; and the American boys over there are willing and eager to help. It is our duty to stand behind them while they are standing behind the French.

"Whether victory comes next year or even sooner, there will be weeks and months of inactivity for the armies during the peace discussions; and other months of waiting for demobilization. These will be, in many ways, the most critical period of the war for our boys. They will have leisure—and we must see to it that the wholesome entertainment which the War Work Agencies have provided is continued with increasing effectiveness. They will want to study and to get back into touch with business, thought and life. We must see that they have plenty of good books, and plenty of teachers and a constant stream of good business men going across to lecture to them and guide their thoughts back into the channels of peace.

"It has been the privilege of the seven great war agencies to represent the American home, and church and theater and gymnasium and library and club in France. The influence of these great institutions will be needed in an even greater degree from now on. Let us, as a thanksgiving for the promise of victory, make the United War Work Campaign the greatest success of any campaign of its kind.

"Every one of us engaged in manufacturing, whether an employer or employe, is already thinking about the problems of readjustment. But we must not forget that the boys over there are to have their period of readjustment, their months of waiting to be brought back here. We have stood by them generously so far; let us see the task through to the end. Until the last man is landed safe home again, we must stand by. Let us do it by putting the United War Work Campaign over the top."

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Simple, Smart Design.

2401—Serge, voile, linen, gabardine, gingham, chambray, khaki, shantung and foulard are nice for this model. The waist is finished with a vest or plastron under which the closing is effected. There are two styles of sleeve. The skirt has straight, graceful lines with plaits in back and front.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. Size 16 requires 5¾ yards of 40 inch material. The skirt measures about 2¼ yards with plaits drawn out.

WEINSTEIN SENDS GERMAN MONEY

Got It From a German Prisoner Would Like to Write More "But If I Sit Down to Write, Where Will be My Life?"

Mr. and Mrs. A. Weinstein of No. 136 Newkirk avenue have received the following letter from their son, Louis Weinstein:

LOUIS WEINSTEIN.

Oct. 7, 1918.

Dear Parents:

Just a few lines to let you know that I am well and hope to hear the same from you. I received your letters all on one day, three of them, and was glad to get them, for I did not get mail for some time. I got the money order for $5 and was glad to get it, for I did not have a cent. You can send all the other things in a letter. You think it is easy for me to write. You know I can't write when I am in the trenches, for I got more on my mind. If I sit down to write, where will be my life. I have to look out all the time. I can't go to sleep even.

We sure did have hard luck this last time we were in, most of the old boys of Co M. Some were unlucky and some were not. I was a lucky one all right, and I am glad of it. I can't write. You know I can't do it and you know the reason why. I can't write all I know. Some time I will be able to tell you all about it. You ought to know more about the war than I do.

We got a lot of prisoners last time and they are a lot of young boys about 16 or 17 years of age. I am glad to hear that Kingston is still on the map. Some day I may come back to Kingston and will be glad to see it.

What do you think of Camp Upton. You say it will take three days to go all over the camp, so you ought to see a big camp. Camp Upton is a small place. Camp Mead is six times as big.

You want to know how I agree with French people. You know that I can agree with anyone. I get along alright with them. It was hard at first, but not now. I know a little of the language now, but I expect to learn more yet. I can speak well enough to get along all right. Yes, I can speak German too, for all the prisoners I see I talk to them.

Yes, I know all about the Jewish holiday. I got a pass and I went to town. You know how last year I was home for the holiday, but this year I am in France, but next year I think I will be home if God spares me.

Why don't you give Sam, in Boston, my address, so he can send me a letter. I get The Freeman alright, and why don't you tell Abe to write me a letter once in a while.

You sent me a little money, so I will send you a little German money I took from one of the prisoners. It is enclosed in the letter.

John Durham told you that I was a cook. He is right, but I got tired of it, so I went with the cavalry.

Send me a little money once in a while, and don't forget to send me a picture of Herman, for I'd like to see what he looks like anyway. I will send you a picture of myself and my horses. I am going to send a letter to Herman, too.

Well, as this is all I have to write, I will come to a close. Answer at once.

Your loving son,
LOUIS.

P. S.—Give my best regards to Celia and to Sam and to everyone else.

Bath Robes, $3.97 to $6.97

Our government urges merchants to push the sale of Christmas goods early as a patriotic duty. Consequently we would urge our customers to select their Christmas gifts early for their own good and also to relieve the extra strain for the month of December. A good warm bath robe makes a most acceptable gift, and our stock is larger than ever. Buy now for present use or for a Christmas gift. For men or women, $3.97, $4.50, $4.97, $5.97 and $7.50. Children's robes at $2.97.

Ladies' and Children's Winter Coats

Our stock is large and the values are extraordinary in comparison to other lines of merchandise. The future supply is decidedly limited and manufacturers will not promise to fill duplicate orders. We strongly urge your making an early selection. Pick out your winter coat and be ready for colder weather.

FACTS FOR HAY PRODUCERS.

Present Status of Hay Market in New York City.

Since New York city is an important center as a hay market and many shippers focus their attention on its activity, Dr. Eugene H. Porter, of the State Division of Foods and Markets, has prepared a comprehensive article on its present status, which appears in the October number of the division's monthly bulletin, "Foods and Markets."

The many classifications and grades of hay at the New York market and the difference in the grading according to the National Hay Exchange, the New York Hay Exchange and the rules of the state relative to same, as well as the adjustment of weights, freights, and shrinkage, are matters of concern to shippers of hay at this time.

Some of the items are: How the hay reaches New York, via canal boats, freight cars, and "floats"; methods of unloading, in sheds, sidings, and trucks; how the official weigher determines the weight and the computation of shrinkage in weight, if any; the adjustment of freight, storage, and commission charges; how the shipper is protected against fraudulent agents; why many buyers prefer large bales.

Dr. Porter wishes particularly to emphasize that in this war time, when freight cars are in such demand, it is advisable not to ship damaged hay. Furthermore, the New York market does not absorb the product as it formerly did, since in these days of power and motor service the street-car barns and boarding stables are no longer buyers.

Plenty of Small Anthracite.

After making a careful survey of the fuel situation, the New York State Fuel Administration is able to assure consumers a sufficient supply of the small steam sizes of anthracite. Mine operators and the anthracite trade report as available an abundance of buckwheat, rice, barley, birdseye and screenings, but a shortage of domestic and large sizes. Those who can use buckwheat and smaller sizes, or who can change their grates to burn this class of anthracite, should do so because they are assured of abundant supplies by the State Fuel Administrator. Consumers of anthracite for steam purposes, who burn pea or larger sizes, will have to defer to ordinary household consumers if the supply runs short. They can guard against the risk by arranging to use buckwheat and smaller sizes.
